Dear Benjamin Bernhard Fenner

I sent a mail to you earlier with above subject matter, but I doubt you received it since there has not been a reply from you. Nonetheless, I felt constrained to send yet another. This time I hope that you will receive it.

My names are Francisco Romero Ortiz, a personal attorney to Late Jorge K. Fenner, he was a successful Businessman who lived in Spain and died in a car crash along with his wife and their only son on the 29th of August 2014. Few years after his death, I was directed by his bank to locate any of his extended relatives whom shall be beneficiary of his Investment Portfolio with the bank valued at €9,700,000.00 (Nine Million, Seven Hundred Thousand Euros). I tried to locate any of his family members, but all such efforts ended without success.

Just 2 weeks ago, I received yet another call from the holding bank indicating that proceedings for a forfeiture of this fund to the Spanish Government in line with enabling laws would be initiated if I did not present any person as Next of Kin to claim the deposited money. With this, I decide to search for a person who shares the same last name with my late Client; as my client did not declare any other person, address, partner or relatives in the official paper works of his deposi

Against this backdrop, my suggestion is that I will need your consent and permission to present your name to the bank as the next of kin to my late client Mr. Jorge K. Fenner, since you both share the same last name. With my position as his personal lawyer, recognised by the bank, I will provide every relevant document that will assist our claims, and facilitate the release and the transfer of the money. I assure you that this transaction will be executed under a legitimate arrangement without the breach of the law, although it might not be justified morally. Once the money is transferred to you, we shall share the money 50% each, but before we share the money I will like us to donate 10% of the money to a charity organization.

If my proposal does offend your moral values, please pardon me, otherwise reply via my or call my telephone number Tel: +34 632 598 923 for further clarification. Please be kind to get back to me, even if you are not interested so that I can further my search for another partner.
